

Exploring Suffolk

Seckford Hall is an excellent base for exploring the famously unspoilt Suffolk Heritage Coast and countryside. Set on the serene River Deben, Woodbridge itself boasts beautiful architecture, many fine shops and boutiques and the famous Tide Mill. Orford, Aldeburgh, Snape Maltings, Framlingham, Dunwich Heath, Minsmere and Sutton Hoo are also within easy reach, as is Constable Country.

Leisure opportunities abound in the area. These include fishing, cycling, walking, sailing and horse riding.

A splendid Tudor hall nestling in quiet surroundings

Seckford Hall – a perfect setting, a perfect day, a perfect night – a setting to remember!

Nestling in a hollow one mile west of the historic market town of Woodbridge, Seckford Hall is one of Suffolk's premier hotels and restaurants, combining splendid Tudor surroundings with luxurious accommodation and stunning modern facilities.

Built by Sir Thomas Seckford in 1530 and purchased by the current owners in 1951, the Hall nestles in beautiful gardens complete with mature trees, a picturesque willow-fringed lake and some 34 acres of private pasture and woodland to explore beyond.

Whether you are visiting Seckford Hall for business or pleasure, our friendly and capable staff are always on hand to make your time here as enjoyable as possible.

Accommodation

Seckford Hall hotel has to be one of the finest country house hotels in Suffolk, offering high quality accommodation.

Throughout the hotel, the very best of care has been taken to ensure the comfort of each guest. Modern facilities have successfully blended with the hotels varied and regal past, beautiful oak panelling, ceilings and doors and intricate carvings depicting the history and splendour of its period.

All the hotels 32 bedrooms have a comfortable and relaxing atmosphere, and most have recently been completely refurbished offering LCD TVs (some with DVD players), high quality furnishing and modern state-of-the-art bathrooms. Some of our bedrooms are situated in the delightful Courtyard area offering luxury suites, studios and family rooms.

The Dining Experience

With its sumptuously laid tables and monastic oak panelling, the main Hotel Restaurant is a truly unrivalled setting for that special occasion, while a less formal bistro-style experience awaits you in the Club Restaurant, which is housed in a converted Tudor Tithe barn with outdoor seating.

Both restaurants have been awarded two prestigious AA Rosettes in recognition of the high standard of cuisine on offer and are open to hotel guests and the general public. You will find a wide selection of fish, meat and vegetarian dishes with an emphasis on seasonal local produce, and to complement your meal a range of fine wines from world vineyards.

Time to Unwind

The hotel is set amongst 34 acres of private Suffolk countryside. The most wonderful setting to truly unwind.

For pre or post dinner drinks sample the unique atmosphere of the Tudor Bar and lounge areas within the hotel. Enjoy a coffee or lunch in the cosy Tudor Bar or a drink in the magnificent Great Hall, formerly a minstrel's gallery and now a beautiful lounge. Other places to unwind include the large gardens, which provide a wonderful setting for al fresco lunches and afternoon teas in the summertime, or for a stroll, after enjoying a delightful lunch or dinner in one of restaurants.

Corporate & Conference Facilities

We have a range of high quality, conference facilities for business meetings and corporate events. Using our conference hotel venue for your business event will give you many benefits. Not only will you receive first class service and facilities, your party will be relaxed by the beautiful surroundings.

Two main conference rooms are available at Seckford Hall hotel, together with smaller rooms, which can be used individually or as syndicate rooms. The Lakeside suite is ideal for executive meetings, catering for up to 120 guests and The Club Room, situated in a beautiful Tudor Tithe Barn, caters for the smaller meeting or seminar.
